Revista Letras Raras, an academic journal of Language and Literature v. 8, n. 2. 2019

Studies on Discourse Analysis

In this edition, Revista Letras Raras brings to the public the special issue Studies on Discourse Analysis, that consists of eighth texts. Based on its editorial policy, in addition to the articles which constitute this special issue, other four articles, that are in accordance with the focus and scope of this journal, are published. Besides, review, translation and literary creation also have a place in this edition, confirming the proposal of the Journal.

This second edition has as the editors of the special issue Studies on Discourse Analysis the invited professors Micah Corum, from the Interamerican University of Puerto Rico, in San Germán, Orison Marden Bandeira de Melo Júnior, form the Federal University of Rio Grande do Norte. Professor Maria Angélica de Oliveira, from the University of Campina Grande, who is also one of the leaders of the research group LELLC (Laboratory of Studies on Linguistics, Literature, and Languages in Contemporary Society) which manages this academic journal. The authors of the articles are from different Brazilian universities such as UFRS, UFPEl, UFSC, UnB, UFSM, UFFS, UNISA, USP, UNIFESP, UESPI, IFB, UECE, and from the foreigner ones, the University of Trondheim, in Norway, and the Wuhan University, in China.

According to the editorial policy of the journal, every article goes through a double-blind review by peers and, after being approved and translated to English language, the articles are submitted to a new evaluation, a language review and, then, sent to the editing process of the texts which will be published. These procedures take months until the moment in which all the texts are published. Although it takes a long time, the result is rewarding, once the quality of the articles has increased. Based on this, we believe that our focus and aim are being ratified with each new edition, going beyond national and even continental borders

Therefore, dear reader, we launch this second edition of the year 2019 aiming to make Revista Letras Raras to continue sharing and producing science in the Linguistic and Literature field.

Dear reader, enjoy the reading!!
